Attachments: easthollywood.png firefox.png hollywood.png hollywoodsatellitelabelschecked.png hollywoodterrainmodefullscreen.png hollywoodfullscreen.png hollywoodterrainmode.png hollywoodpopupdisappears.png hollywoodsatellitelabelscheckedfullscreen.png melrose.png elrancho.png

Preconditions: The app server link is open in a new browser tab. The app is running.

Steps: 1. Click on the area header "HOLLYWOOD".

Expected result: Nothing happens. The area headers cannot be selected.

Actual Result: A pop-up window appears. The area headers cannot be selected.

Text comments: There is a suspicion, that the same thing is happening with many area headers, if not with all. For example, with FIREFAX, MELROSE, EAST HOLLYWOOD, EL RANCHO on the same initial screen.

The described thing happens with the area headers mentioned above in all possible modes, displaying area headers: Map, Map-Terrain-checked, Satellite-Labels-checked, in full and regular screen mode.

Screenshots/screencasts: 11

Description

When the user is on the initial screen and clicks on the area header "HOLLYWOOD" a pop-up window appears. The pop-up window suggests the user to view the area on Google Maps using the attached link. The pop-up window disappears when the user clicks on the cross in the right upper corner of the pop-up window or the other area header. According to the expecting result when the user clicks on the area header nothing happens.
